IN THE DISTRICT COURTS.

The Revisal of the New Code by the Bar Association.

Lawyers Think the Old Section Regarding Divorces Should Be Retained-Changes in the Method of Committing Lunatics Proposed.

The committee of the Washington Bar Association which, with the assistance of the members of the beach of the Supreme Court of the District, has been engaged during the last month revising the new laws for the government of the District expects to finish the work by the close of the week. The code as adopted at the last session of Congress has been gone over section by section, and such changes suggested as are believed will be necessary to adapt the law for the government of the District of Columbia. The most radical change suggested, it is said, has been made in reference to the law of divorce as contained in the new code. According to the provisions of the new law divorce can only be granted on statutory grounds. This, it is believed by a large majority of the members of the local bar, would work to the detrito base a petition for divorce.

Under the provisions of the code rehas been deserted by her husband and left without means of support could obtain no relief in the divorce court, while her erring better half would be permitted to spend his earnings as he pleased, withderstood that the committee on revision

LABOR DAY PROGRAMMES.

Members of the Various Central Bodies Planning in Advance.

An Old-Fashioned Barbecue to Be One of the Features of the Celebration by the C. L. U. - Athletic Games to Figure Prominently.

Although it is more than two months before Labor Day, the members of organized labor in the District, irrespective of their national affiliations, have begun active preparations for the observance of the easion. The three local central labor odies, the Central Labor Union, District Assembly No. 66, Knights of Labor, and the Building Trades Council, have all begun the formation of plans for the cele-bration of Labor Day, the first Monday in

The day is recognized in all parts of the country as the wage earners, national holiday, and is observed by the toilers in different parts of the country in different ways. It has come to be recognized as a general holiday, not alone by the work-men of the various crafts and callings, but has been made a holday by legislation in nearly every State ip the Union. The day was first legalized as a general holiday by the State Legislature of New York in 1882, and it was not until ten years later that Congress passed an act making it a general holiday in the District of Columbia.

Labor Day was first celebrated by the members of organized labor in Washington by a street parade, in which about 5,000 of the union men in the District took part. In the year following it was again observed by a street parade, but not since then. It was decided by the local leaders that the street parade was too fatiguing and as the day was one set aside for rest and amusement it could be more appropriately celebrated. As a consequence, for several years past the local central bodies have organized mammoth excursions to some of the pleasure resorts along the Potomac. There the day has been spent by the union men, with the members of their families and friends, in innocent amusements and athletic games.

Usually the members of the different local labor organizations and their families and friends, aggregating between ten and fifteen thousand, go down to the pleasure resorts in the morning and do not return until late at night. The early part of the day is spent in picknicking in family parties or by unions and the after-family parties or by unions and the afternoon in athletic games. The games over, the greater part of the excursionists repair to the dance pavilion, where the remainder of the day is spent.

During the last five or six years the members of District Assembly, No. 65, Knights of Labor, have spent Labor Day picnicking at Marshall Hall, while the Trades Unionists, represented in the Central Labor Union, have organized outings to River View. The latter organization, hewever, has determined to spend the coming Labor Day at Glen, Echo. The feature of the observance in this piace will be a regular old-time terbecue. At both resorts, however, the committees in charge of the arrangements will arrange a series of athletic games in which the successful competitors will receive prizes. The general and sub-committees in charge of the arrangements for the celebration of the day by the unions affiliated with the Central Labor Union are:

General Committee—E. J. Ratigan, Chairman; C. W. Winslow, Secretary; J. M. Heisley, Treasurer.

Sub-committees—Printing—John B. Dickman, Chairman; Milford Spohn, H. R. Feilinger.

inverest which was considered was that of Lewis Francis Mortimer, who was charged with the larceny of $2.00 worth of diamonds from Mrs. Olivia C. Starring, which resulted in the acquittal of the accused man. During the first three weeks of the month Justice Anderson presided in Criminal Court No. 1. He was releved on Monday last by Justice Barnard, and left the city for Mexico on a trip of pleasure and business combined. Justice Barnard wills continue to preside in that branch of the court until the close of the term.

The grand jury will today resume its

man; W. A. Morrison, J. L. Cochran, Frank Lvons.

The Building Trades Council has appointed J. E. Mitchell, and W. A. Dion as a committee to arrange for the celebration of Labor Day by that body. At the meeting held on last Tuesday night it was stated that the place at which the members of the council, their families and friends will spend the day had not been decided upon. spend the day had not been decided upon. It is probable, however, that a selection will be made before the council meets to-

POLICE CHANGES IN EFFECT.

The Reorganization Bill Provisions

Recome Operative Today. As today is the date set for the going into effect of the police reorganization bill enacted at the last session of Congress, which bill provides for a general increase in the numbers of the local police force, together with the usual accompaniments of promotions, reductions and dismissais, Major Sylvester last night gave out a few of the new assignments decided upon, as follows:

Lieutenant Byrnes, of the Sixth pre cinct, will today enter upon his dutes as lieutenant in command of the Second precinct police station, vice Captain Heffner, recently promoted and ordered to Headquarters.

Sergt, Philip Browne, for many months familiar figure on the downtown F Street beat, and a well-knewn athlete s, according to a statement made by Major Sylvester last night, assigned to the position of Sergeant Shilling, in the First precinct. Sergeant Shilling, who is one of the old st members of the local police force, and who is also rated as being one of the most popular men in the department, has, apparently owing to his age, been us signed to the White House. This transer of Sergeant Shilling will be one gen erally regretted by many of his fellow bluecoats in the First precinct, where Tony," as he is familiarly known, has erved faithfully during the last eighteer or twenty years. Shilling was also at etive participant in the election riots uring the early days of the civil war and owing to his cool and brave conduct on several occasions when the police an rioters clashed, he was promoted to ergeantcy, which position he now holds Robert Doyle, of the First recinct, is transferred to the Eighth preprecinct, is transferred to the Lighth pre-cinct station, to succeed Sergeant Con-lon, who is transferred to the Seventh precinct. Sergeant Doyle is one of the best known policemen in this city, hav-ing served faithfully in the department for a score of years. His father, Ser-geant Doyle, was killed while making a that vacancy.

According to a statement issued at

According to a statement issued at Headquarters last night, today will sit ness the appointment to the force of many new members, who, it is said, in order that they may learn the business more thoroughly, will be assigned to duty in the residence section of the city first in the residence section of the city first and as they grow more profestent with later be assigned to more important patron in the business centre of the city. Considerable embatrassment has been caused the Major and Superinten-dent of the Police Department, it is said by the failure of the contractors to com-plete the new Tenth precinct stationhous-on Whitney Avenue, at the expected time. Consequently, when that structure in completed which will probably be within three ways, a great many more chang. three weeks, a great many more change will be announced in order that the next tation may be put into commission at The topic of discussion among the The topic of discussion among the policemen themselves is as to who is to have the command of the First precinct station, which assignment is looked upon as an important one, owing to its being located in the business centre of the city Lieutenant Amiss has been connected with this station for a number of years and rendered excellent service, but owing to his present bad state of health it is thought that he will eventually be retried or assigned to a precinct where there is less work and responsibility. That there will be many minor changes That there will be many minor changes in the First precinct station seems to be assured, and according to statements recently made by persons who are in the "know," at least one other sergeant will be appointed for that station, together with a new night deck sergeant.

asked by the District authorities to show cause why the unused tracks should not be taken up and the street, which was then in bad condition, restored to a safe and smooth driveway. The company made certain representations to the Com-missioners that they had to vice the missioners that they had in view the possible improvement of these tracks and asked time in which to perfect their plans. In June, 1960, the Commissioners were about to serve formal notice on the company to remove its tracks within aixty days, which the law authorized them saxty days, which the law authorized them to do. But just then the health of the Engineer Commissioner became impaired and he left the city for a long stay, extending into the autumn months. After his return business had so accumulated and the execution of some of the street contracts occupied attention for several months, and it was not possible to take up the matter until late in the spring. After serving on the company several After serving on the company severa nformal notices that the District desired that the tracks should be removed and the readway restored to good condition. the Commissioners, under the advice of heir attorney, sixty days ago sent a no-tice to the officials of the company in-forming them that the abandoned tracks must be removed within sixty days from the date of the notice or the company would be fined $10 per diem for every day hereafter that the tracks remained upo

The company bided its time and waited in the company bided its time and waited in the interest of the company before beginning operations.
